ON THE JOB

MICHELLE MIRA PAREKH
CAREER Marketing Consultant
AGE 31
LIVES London
FROM London

How did you get into your line of work?
During university and different job experiences I developed a love for the versatility of marketing. I couldn't exactly define the job role and all of my days were exciting and different. However, what I didn't enjoy was promoting a bad product. I decided to choose and go in-house.

What do you do day-to-day?
No two days are the same! Today I have a potential meeting with Amy Childs, I have to work on some art work for one of the new Med Contour clinics, get one of our medical representatives organised for an exhibition and also begin a research article about combating cellulite and banishing those love handles for a local newspaper.

The best part of your job?
Everything!

What's the most challenging?
Spending too much time online.
